

Component Diagram of Movie Explorer

This diagram decomposes the system into its principal components and illustrates the interfaces between them. The frontend React application communicates with the backend Express server via RESTful HTTP calls. Internally, the backend is organised into routers, a service layer, a data access layer, and a dedicated TMDB adapter that communicates with the external movie database.